

ANNA KIMBRELL

Anna Kimbrell

Project Consultant

Selected Career Highlights and Experience – GreenPlay, LLC

- Serves as a project consultant, supporting project managers and agency staff on master plans, feasibility studies, needs assessments, and special projects.
- Assists in all phases of projects including start-up, public process, presentations, and document compilation and review.
- Researches and compiles current national and local parks and recreation trends analysis for individual projects.
- Researches funding mechanisms for agencies.
- Conducts demographic analysis for agencies and communities.
- Collects and analyzes benchmarking data from comparable communities and agencies.
- Works with project managers and city staff to produce complete, coherent, final documents and presentations.

Management/Administrative/Professional

- Managed Exercise Defined Inc., a private clinical fitness and wellness facility in Washington D.C.
- Assisted in the development of a law practice and handled all office management, research, and project support to the firm’s attorney.
- Served as a News Aide for The Washington Post and provided support services for newsroom editors and staff.

Education

Bachelor of Arts in Print Journalism, with a Minor in Spanish Language; The American University, Washington D.C., 2003

Successfully completed Year One of the Rocky Mountain Revenue Management School

Awards and Memberships

- Member of Kansas Parks and Recreation Association
- Member of the National Parks and Recreation Association
- Currently preparing for the Certified Parks and Recreation Professional (CPRP) exam